

ANDREA MENUZZO, PRESIDENT

Andrea Menuzzo is the President of CAME S.p.A. After graduating from the University of Hohenheim in Stuttgart and obtaining an MBA at the CUOA Foundation, Menuzzo started his professional career in 2001 at the German branch of the CAME Group and subsequently moved to the English branch in 2003. Having held positions of increasing responsibility, he returned to Italy in 2005 to serve as CEO of CAME S.p.A., guiding the Group's international development.

The company's growth has partly been the result of acquisitions overseen by Andrea Menuzzo: firstly of Urbaco, a pioneer in the development of automatic bollard technology, followed by the BPT Group, a leading company in the design of video door entry, temperature control and security technologies, and then the Spanish Parkare Group, which specializes in the automatic parking and parking metre sector. The most significant developments managed by Menuzzo include CAME's entry into the Russian market with the openings of a branch office and five agencies, as well as the Middle Eastern opening of a branch office in Dubai.

Under Andrea Menuzzo's guidance, the Group has achieved important milestones, creating, among its various projects, the Expo Milano 2015 perimeter protection and access control system, the solution for parking management at Gatwick Airport in London and the Urbaco systems for the protection of large urban spaces on the Promenade de la Croisette in Cannes.