CAMESAFE

FOR INSTALLERS WHO VALUE SAFETY

The most comprehensive
EN safety training available

The CAMESAFE ideology has long been a principal that CAME has upheld. Even before the CAMESAFE idea was conceived, we recognised that, as an automation manufacturer, we had a duty to deliver our customers with not only the physical tools to complete a safe installation, but the mental tools too.

That ideology has been the foundation for us producing an industry-leading safety course that delivers, professional, thought provoking and most importantly, up to the minute training that provides you as an installer with the tools you need to keep you, your business and your customers, safe.

To date, CAMESAFE has been provided to over 1000 installers, an impressive figure. However, we know there are installers, and installation companies, working in the industry that haven't accessed our knowledge and given themselves the tools to safeguard future accountability and make the industry safer.

Recent high-profile court cases have once again highlighted the importance of the legal and moral obligations of an installer working in the gate automation industry. Are you fully equipped to provide a legally compliant safe installation? Unsure? If the answer is 'yes', CAMESAFE can provide clarity on your accountability as an installer.

Entering its 11th year, CAMESAFE is the longest running gate safety course. With that experience comes a wealth of knowledge that allows CAME to remain at the forefront of gate safety training. An ever-changing industry requires a course you can rely on to keep you in the know. CAMESAFE provides that stable knowledge base for you and your workforce.
